ISD POTPOURRI:

From the PRESCHOOL Department: A survey is being conducted from the previous parents meeting to see what activities parents want their children to become involved in. A parent listing of current phone numbers and addresses are being compiled for better communication.

Denise Hibbitt and Sue Stouffer's classes read The Mouse Who Lived In A Shoe. After the story, they used large sized boots to create a "mouse house." These are on display with their "mice" in the hall. Denise and Sue are also working on Cinderella and on Friday, they are going to have a Cinderella's ball.

orge Stailey, Pam Jeanette, and Lou Ott are teaching geometric shapes using aving cream. Nan Pfleging and Gretchen Speckman nursery classes, are trying new experiences with painting using different materials such as spools, fabric, and sponges.

Sandy Hicks class is working on changes on baby characteristics to preschool characteristics from ability changes like crawling to walking, from thinking stages and decisions, from the parent doing to self-doing.

Diane Jones class is watching popcorn seeds grow for growth and development. Doris Alexanders class is studying growth and development using Narcissus bulbs and lima bean seeds.

From the ELEMENTARY Department: Betsy Barton's class is currently studying about animals through "Read the Zoo." Pat Pullman's students are completing book reports through "Read the Zoo" program. They will also be discussing and experimenting more about the characteristics of water. Amy Dye's class is studying the five senses and is making a "senses tunnel."

Laura Gaalema's classroom is currently discussing community helpers (personal awareness) - focusing on mail persons, delivery system and transportation system, programmatic skills, cooperating and sharing. (Sue and Betsy are also involved.)

Laurene Gallimore & Marie Tichenor's classrooms have started the pilot program for sex education and are learning about the human body.

dra Gullion's class in conjunction with reading the story Blueberry For Sale, has also been making various blueberry treats.

Jodi Haywood & Toni Young's class will be studying inventions and how they make life easier. They will also study famous inventors.

Sue Jones & Laura's classrooms are learning about geometric solids, their names, shape & relationships to real world objects. They made a futuristic city from various "junk" geometric solids.

From the MIDDLE SCHOOL Department: Deaf Way will be performing at Brook Park Elementary School on February 26th. Watch for Interim Reports - they will be coming home soon. Also, ISTEP testing will be held on March 6th & 8th.

From the HIGH SCHOOL Department: On March 1st, there will be a speaker from South Africa meeting with students. ISTEP testing will be held on March 6th and 8th.

Get Well Wishes to Melvin Squire, who is recuperating from recent surgery. We wish him a speedy recovery!
